Koji Yamamoto is scheduled to resign at the end of April 2026 and to be appointed as Senior Executive Officer effective May 1, 2026.

As announced on March 27, 2026, the Company has entered into a basic agreement toward commencing discussions on business and management integration, and intends to proceed with full-scale consideration including due diligence. In this important phase of management review, the Company recognizes it is essential that personnel with a deep understanding of the business realities play a central role on the execution side.

Koji Yamamoto has been deeply involved for many years in business operations centered on the Company's front-end process areas, and possesses advanced expertise in technology, manufacturing processes, and business structure. In addition, through his experience supervising the Company's overall business execution as an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member, he also has a strong understanding of the importance of governance.

Based on these circumstances, the Company has determined that appointing him as an Executive Officer to strengthen execution and enhance the quality of decision-making will contribute to improving corporate value and the common interests of shareholders.
